Dear colleagues,

It is my pleasure to support Dr. Sabrina Nurmohamed in her candidacy for the Canadian Dermatology Association Board of Directors as Regional Representative. I have known Dr. Nurmohamed for the past 3 years. Upon relocating to BC from Alberta she has been an engaged and effective leader within the Section of Dermatology while establishing and leading a busy private practice.

She has served as one of 3 members of the Section's Disparity Team who was responsible for negotiating Dermatology's allocation in the 2022 Physician Master Agreement. Her insights were essential in our favourable outcome.

Dr. Nurmohamed is a locally engaged community dermatologist who brings a practical understanding of the challenges facing dermatology today. As a practice owner and clinician, she has direct experience with the realities of modern dermatology practice, including the operational and economic issues that increasingly affect how we deliver care to our patients.

What distinguishes Dr. Nurmohamed is her commitment to innovation and to strengthening our specialty. She has demonstrated local leadership with innovative care delivery models and team-based care and is welcomed in specialist and primary care forums. She has thoughtfully engaged with BC stakeholders on licensing and reimbursement on behalf of our section. Dr. Nurmohamed approaches these issues with professionalism and insight. I know she cares deeply about the future of dermatology in Canada and believe she would be a constructive and effective voice on the CDA Board.

I hope you will agree she is an ideal candidate for this position.

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael Copley
President, BC Section of Dermatology
